Maryland Center for School Safety Summit To Be Rescheduled

The Maryland Center for School Safety Summit, scheduled to be held today in Annapolis, is being rescheduled by the Maryland Center for School Safety due to a combination of an unexpected weather event this week as well as Tuesday's tragic school shooting in St. Mary's County. Six Dorchester County Public Schools staff were planning to attend, along with representatives from Dorchester County law enforcement agencies.

We are now waiting for a new date to be announced for this important meeting. Superintendent of Schools Dr. Diana Mitchell said, "School safety must be a priority for Dorchester County Public Schools. We look forward to working with other Maryland jurisdictions as well law enforcement officials and experts in school safety to ensure our county's children are protected."

Ten DCPS representatives will be attending the Maryland Center for School Safety's A.L.I.C.E. training on April 9 and 10 in Baltimore.
