Warwick Elementary School Donates to the Community

Warwick Elementary students showed thought, compassion, and caring by their recent efforts to assist others in the community through two projects. Fourth grade student Koryn Otey organized a school-wide coat drive to help those suffering from the cold this winter. The coats collected were given to Grace United Methodist Church in Cambridge to be distributed to children in the cold weather shelter and through the church's Sweater and Soup Day, held on January 26.

Through a partnership with Pastor David Kreek and First United Methodist Church of Secretary, Warwick students also conducted a successful canned food drive to support those in need. The items collected were distributed to the Unity-Washington United Methodist Church food pantry in Hurlock.
