Didgeridoo Down Under at Choptank Elementary

Rob Thomas, a true didgeridoo pioneer in the U.S., visited Choptank Elementary School recently to share his native Australian culture and rituals via music, vocabulary, show and tell. Thomas, who has been making and playing didgeridoos for over 20 years, has performed throughout the country, recorded several CDs, and produced music for numerous films, including the IMAX movie Sacred Planet. He performed a unique fusion of music, culture, science, comedy, character building, anti-bullying, environmentalism and audience participation for Choptank students.
